

India-Malta Relations

India and Malta enjoy very friendly and cordial relations. India was one of the first countries to recognize independence of Malta in 1964 and in 1965 established diplomatic relations with it. India and Malta share a common heritage, being members of the Commonwealth. Malta attaches high degree of importance to Commonwealth, and had hosted the CHOGM Summit in November 2005. It again hosted the Summit in November 2015. External Affairs Minister, Mrs.Sushma Swaraj, visited Malta in November 2015, and represented India at CHOGM Summit.

An Assistant High Commission of India at Malta was opened in 1993. However, on grounds of economy, the Government of India closed down the Post in 2002 and appointed an Honorary Consul in Malta. However, the Indian Mission to Malta was re-opened in Jan. 2017, with High Commissioner Shri Rajesh Vaishnaw, taking charge on 12th January, 2018. Malta opened its High Commission in Delhi in July 2007 and has appointed a resident High Commissioner. It also has Honorary Consuls in Mumbai and Chennai.

Institutional arrangements

India and Malta have entered into several bilateral MoUs/Agreements, which include a Cultural Cooperation Agreement, Double Taxation Avoidance Agreement, Protocol on Foreign Office Consultations, e-Tourist Visa on arrival, among others. Some more MoUs/agreements are under discussion.

Economic relations and areas of mutual interests

Malta is keen to attract Indian businesses and capital for taking advantage of its strategic location for accessing European and North African markets. In this regard, an Indian company, M/s Aurobindo Pharma, which had commenced its operations in Malta in January 2009 with 11 employees and initial investment of 5 million Euros, currently has about 140 employees and investment of approx. € 20 million. It is thus the largest analytical Pharma testing facility in Europe, generating employment for more than 100 knowledge based specialists in the local Pharma sector. Similarly, a Maltese company M/s Tolly Products had set up a facility for cosmetic packaging in Uttarakhand, India, sometime back, with an investment of Euro 5 million, which has since been closed.

Malta being a freight transit shipment point, financial centre, and ICT & R&D hub, there is scope for Indian companies to enter Malta in these fields to partner with Maltese companies or to provide exclusive services. Malta is a tourist destination and requires number of related services. Number of exploratory visits etc. have taken place from India to explore for opportunities in different fields. Scope for exploring cooperation in sectors like tourism, ICT, health, maritime, financial services and film production exists. Malta Chamber of Commerce and CII had signed MOUs. In the automobiles sector, India was exporting Maruti-800 and later Tata vehicles to Malta before Malta's accession to EU. There are also opportunities in the software sector as an Indian software company, I-flex, had earlier computerized the operations of Malta's Central Bank.

The main items of India's exports to Malta are marine products, drugs, pharmaceutical & fine chemicals, inorganic/organic/agro chemicals, manufactures of metals, transport equipments, and other commodities. The main items of India's imports from Malta are pulp and waste paper, metal scraps, organic chemicals, medicinal & pharmaceutical products, electronic goods.

Culture & Education

The cultural relations between India and Malta have been old. A Cultural Cooperation Agreement between the both countries was signed in 1992, and remains in force. An 'India Week' was organized in June 2006 with screening of classic Indian films and documentaries coupled with tea and tourism promotion. Subsequently in July/August 2008 a cultural troupe comprising internationally-renowned Kuchipudi classical dancer, Ms. Vjayanthi Kashi, and the renowned violinist, Ms. Anupriya Deotale, visited Malta and staged performances. The event was widely covered by the local media and helped lift India's cultural profile in the island state. In Oct 2013, 'Days of India' were celebrated in Malta with a 10 member ICCR-sponsored troupe giving performances in Valletta and Gozo; holding of an exhibition of the paintings of Mahatma Gandhi, inaugurated by the Maltese Speaker Dr Anglu Farrugia; live demonstrations of crafts by 3 artisans commissioned by EPCH, in the public areas; and holding of a Food Festival at the Sa Re Ga Ma Restaurant, Fortina Hotel, Malta, with the help of two ITDC chefs who were deputed by the Italian Tourist Office, Rome. 100 years of Indian Cinema were also celebrated with the screening of 6 Indian films.

There are some Indian students studying in the University of Malta pursuing courses in diverse fields, as also in some other institutes. Though the number at present is small, there is scope for greater cooperation in the field of education. In this regard, a group of teachers from Indian schools had visited Malta in 2013. Another group of students and teachers from Indian schools visited Malta in April, 2014. In June 2014, a film festival was held in Malta. Shooting for a Bollywood film, Thugs of Hindustan, has recently been held in Malta (Aug./Sept. 2017).

Other events

On June 21, 2015, the Mission celebrated "International Day of Yoga" in collaboration with India Tourism Office, Milan, Italy, ICCR New Delhi and Grand Hotel Excelsior Malta, with the participation of Maltese nationals. Another yoga session was held at the Valletta harbor at the visiting Indian Naval Ship, INS Tarangini. On June 22, 2015, Incredible India Tourism Road Show in collaboration with India Tourism Office, Milan, 'Make in India' presentation and a cultural presentation on famous Bollywood dance performance were also organized. The second and third International Day of Yoga were also celebrated in Malta.

Commonwealth

Malta has hosted CHOGM twice – in 2005 and 2015. On both the occasions, India was represented at the Ministerial level. In Nov. 2005, Shri Kamal Nath, Minister for Commerce & Industry, visited Malta as Head of Indian delegation to CHOGM, in November 2005; and the External Affairs Minister attended the CHOGM Summit 2015 from November 25-29, 2015 as head of the delegation. The Minister of State for External Affairs represented India at the Foreign Ministers' segment of CHOGM from November 5-26, 2015. Malta participated in the Commonwealth Games held in New Delhi.

Visits of Indian ships

Malta being strategically located in the middle of the Mediterranean sea, between the continents of Africa and Europe, regularly hosts the international visiting ships calling on its ports for bilateral goodwill visits as well as for business and transshipment purposes. The Indian naval ships have similarly visited Malta few times in the recent past. This includes 3-day goodwill visit of Indian survey ship INS Darshak in April 2002. INS Tarangini visited Malta on 26 Feb- 1 March 2007; 20-22 June 2015, 6 Oct., 2015; and 20-23 May 2018.

Indian Community

Even though some Maltese-Indians trace their roots in Malta to 1890s, the Indian community has remained small and is no more than 400 strong with about 110 of them having Maltese nationality. They are mostly engaged in business of textiles, and food industry. There are also some Indian students studying in Malta. Malta had extended full cooperation during the evacuation of Indians from Libya in 2011, and again in August 2014.
