Antigua and Barbuda

Antigua and Barbuda are located in the middle of the Leeward Islands in the Eastern Caribbean, north of the equator. It became an independent state in 1981 and has a parliamentary system of government with the British Queen as its constitutional head. She is represented by an appointed Governor General as the head of state.

India and Antigua & Barbuda enjoy warm and friendly relations with similarity of views on most issues of common concern. There have been no official structured bilateral visits or engagement for quite some time, though ad-hoc exchanges do take place from time to time. During the first week of April 2012 Member of Parliament Michael Ascot accompanied Prime Minister of St Kitts and Nevis to India.

The Governor General of Antigua and Barbuda, Sir Rodney Williams visited India from 4-21 October 2015 in his personal capacity to participate in the 16th International Conference of Chief Justices of the World organized by City Montessori School, Lucknow.

Mr. R. Swaminathan, Secretary (AMS, CPV& SA) paid an official visit to Antigua & Barbuda during July 24-25, 2015 and met Hon'ble Prime minister Gaston Browne and Minister of Foreign Affairs & International Trade and Minister of Health.

High Commissioner of India to Guyana, with residence at Georgetown, is also accredited to Antigua & Barbuda.
