

India - Japan Relations

The friendship between India and Japan has a long history rooted in spiritual affinity and strong cultural and civilizational ties. India's earliest documented direct contact with Japan was with the Todaiji Temple in Nara, where the consecration or eye-opening of the towering statue of Lord Buddha was performed by an Indian monk, Bodhisena, in 752 AD. In contemporary times, among prominent Indians associated with Japan were Swami Vivekananda, Gurudev Rabindranath Tagore, JRD Tata, Netaji Subhash Chandra Bose and Judge Radha Binod Pal. The Japan India Association was set up in 1903, and is today the oldest international friendship body in Japan.

Throughout the various phases of history since contacts between India and Japan began some 1400 years ago, the two countries have never been adversaries. Bilateral ties have been singularly free of any kind of dispute – ideological, cultural or territorial. Post the Second World War, India did not attend the San Francisco Conference, but decided to conclude a separate peace treaty with Japan in 1952 after its sovereignty was fully restored. The sole dissenting voice of Judge Radha Binod Pal at the War Crimes Tribunal struck a deep chord among the Japanese public that continues to reverberate to this day.

The modern nation States have carried on the positive legacy of the old association which has been strengthened by shared values of belief in democracy, individual freedom and the rule of law. Over the years, the two countries have built upon these values and created a partnership based on both principle and pragmatism. Today, India is the largest democracy in Asia and Japan the most prosperous.

Political Relations

In the first decade after diplomatic ties were established in 1952, several high level exchanges took place, including Japanese Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's visit to India in 1957, Prime Minister Nehru's return visit to Tokyo the same year (with a gift of two elephants) and President Rajendra Prasad's visit in 1958. The visit of their Highnesses, the then Japanese Crown Prince Akihito and Crown Princess Michiko in 1960 took the relations to a new level. After Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda's visit to India in 1961, the next Prime Ministerial visit from Japan was by Yasuhiro Nakasone in 1984. Prime Ministerial visits from India included Smt. Indira Gandhi (1969 & 1982), Shri Rajiv Gandhi (1985 & 1987) and Shri P. V. Narasimha Rao (1992).

A transformational development in the economic history of India was Suzuki Motor Corporation's path breaking investment in India in the early 1980s that revolutionized the automobile sector, bringing in advanced technology and management ethics to India. A test of the reliability of Japan as a friend was witnessed in 1991, when Japan was among the few countries that unconditionally bailed India out of the balance of payment crisis.

During Prime Minister Mori's path-breaking visit to India in 2000, the Japan-India Global Partnership in the 21st century was launched. The Joint Statement signed by Prime Ministers Manmohan Singh and Shinzo Abe in 2006 factored in the new challenges, and the relationship was upgraded to a Global and Strategic Partnership with the provision of annual Prime Ministerial Summits. A Comprehensive Economic Partnership Agreement (CEPA) between Japan and India was concluded in 2011.

Their Majesties Emperor Akihito and Empress Michiko visited India (Delhi and Chennai) from 30 November-6 December 2013.

The two countries have several institutional dialogue mechanisms, which are held regularly at senior official and functional levels to exchange views on bilateral issues as well as regional and international cooperation. There is Foreign Office Consultation at the level of Foreign Secretary / Vice Foreign Minister as well as a 2+2 Dialogue at the level of Foreign and Defense Secretaries. During the Prime Minister Narendra Modi visit to Japan in 2018, a ministerial level 2+2 Dialogue mechanism was also announced. Similarly, there are dialogue mechanisms in diverse fields such as economy, commercial, financial services, health, road transport, shipping, education etc. to name a few sectors.

Economic and Commercial Cooperation

Japan is regarded as a key partner in India's economic transformation. In the recent past, the India Japan relationship has transformed to a partnership of great substance and purpose. Japan's interest in India is increasing due to a variety of reasons including India's large and growing market and its resources, especially the human resources. The India-Japan Comprehensive Economic Partnership Agreement (CEPA) that came into force in August 2011 is the most comprehensive of all such agreements concluded by India and covers not only trade in goods but also Services, Movement of Natural Persons, Investments, Intellectual Property Rights, Custom Procedures and other trade related issues.

Japan has been extending bilateral loan and grant assistance to India since 1958, and is the largest bilateral donor for India. Japanese ODA supports India's efforts for accelerated economic development particularly in priority areas like power, transportation, environmental projects and projects related to basic human needs. The Ahmedabad-Mumbai High Speed Rail, the Western Dedicated Freight Corridor (DFC), the Delhi-Mumbai Industrial Corridor with twelve new industrial townships, the Chennai-Bengaluru Industrial Corridor (CBIC) are all mega projects which will transform India in the next decade. Delhi Metro Project has also been realized with Japanese assistance. In 2017-18, ODA disbursed was JPY 246.32 billion.

In FY 2017-2018 India-Japan bilateral trade reached US$ 15.71 billion. Exports from Japan to India during this period were US$ 10.97 billion and imports were US$ 4.74 billion. The trade totaled to US$ 14.90 billion during April 2018 – February 2019. Exports from Japan to India during this period were US$ 10.05 billion and imports were US$ 4.85 billion. India's primary exports to Japan have been petroleum products, chemicals, elements, compounds, non-metallic mineral ware, fish & fish preparations, metalliferous ores & scrap, clothing & accessories, iron & steel products, textile yarn, fabrics and machinery etc. India's primary imports from Japan are machinery, transport equipment, iron and steel, electronic goods, organic chemicals, machine tools, etc.

India has been ranked as the one of the most attractive investment destination in the survey (2018) of Japanese manufacturing companies, conducted by the Japan Bank for International Cooperation (JBIC). From Financial Year (FY) 2015- 16 to FY 2016-17, Japanese FDI into India increased from US$ 2.61 billion to US$ 4.7 billion. For FY 2017-18 it was US$ 1.6 billion. Japanese FDI during FY 2018-19 (April – December) was US$ 2.2 billion. Cumulatively, since 2000 the investments to India has been around US$ 29.51 billion (Japan ranks third now among the major investors). Japanese FDI into India has mainly been in automobile, electrical equipment, telecommunications, chemical and pharmaceutical sectors.

The number of Japanese affiliated companies in India has grown significantly in recent years. The number of Japanese companies registered in India increased 5% in 2018 compared to 2017 with number reaching to 1,441 as of October 2018 (according to the latest joint survey by the Embassy of Japan in India and the Japan External Trade Organization (JETRO)). Similarly, number of Indian companies working in Japan is also increasing with number now crossing more than 100.

India-Japan Digital Partnership (IJDP) and Start-up Hub

A "India-Japan Digital Partnership" (I-JDP) was launched during the visit of PM Modi to Japan in October 2018, furthering existing areas of cooperation as well as new initiatives within the scope of cooperation in S&T/ICT, focusing more on "Digital ICT Technologies". This also incorporates setting up "Start-up Hub" between India and Japan. MeitY will be nodal agency to implement it from Indian side with Ministry of Communications (MoC), DIPP, NITI Aayog other stakeholders, and METI from Japanese side with MEXT and MIC other stakeholders from Japanese sides.

During Minister Seko's visit to India in May 2018, a Joint Statement on Japan-India Startup Initiative was signed and first Startup Hub was established in Bangalore by JETRO to identify selected Indian start-ups for Japanese market and for potential Japanese investors. Thereafter, Startup-India (under Invest India) and Japan Innovation Network (JIN) have signed a MoU on innovation collaboration with a focus on SDGs (Sustainable Development Goals) connecting two start-up eco-systems in June 2018. Invest India also launched online portal for the Start-up hub. Union Minister of Commerce and Industry Shri. Piyush Goyal attended the G20 Ministerial Meeting on Trade and Digital Economy on 8-9 June 2019 in Tsukuba and participated in discussions relating to increasing trade and cooperation to harness the potential of digital economy. On the sidelines, he held a bilateral meeting with METI Minister Hiroshige Seko on India-Japan bilateral cooperation in trade and investment.

Cooperation in Skill Development

Under the MoC signed in 2016 to train 30,000 shop floor leaders, Japanese companies have established ten Japan-India Institute of Manufacturing (JIM) in India and 3 Japanese Endowed Courses (JEC) in Indian Engineering Colleges. India and Japan signed a MoC on TITP (Technical Intern Training Program) in October 2017 with National Skill Development Corporation (NSDC) as the implementing body for TITP. MSDE and NSDC have empanelled 23 Indian Organizations to operate as Sending Organisations for TITP from India. Following this, the first batch of Indian nurses arrived in Japan as TITP interns (trained by CII) in July 2018. The 2nd TITP Seminar was organized in September 2018 in Nagoya, in cooperation with MSDE, NSDC and JITCO etc. As of March 2019, 31 TITP interns have arrived in Japan.

Cooperation in Railway Sector

Mumbai-Ahmedabad High Speed Railway (MAHSR) is a very important area of cooperation between India and Japan in Railway Sector. National High Speed Rail Cooperation Limited (NHSRCL) is implementing the project. 9th and 10th Joint Committee Meeting (JCM) for the MAHSR project were held in March 2019 (in Tokyo) and July 2019 (in New Delhi) respectively. As part of the cooperation in HSR (High Speed Railway) technology, JICA is providing training to Indian Railway officers. The Government of Japan has also offered 20 seats per year for master degree course from the universities of Japan, for serving Indian Railways officials. A new High-Speed Rail Training Institute is being built at the National Academy of Indian Railways (NAIR) campus in Vadodara.

Science & Technology and Cultural Cooperation

India-Japan S&T cooperation was formalized through an Inter-Governmental Agreement signed in 1985. Bilateral S&T cooperation began in 1993 with the establishment of the India-Japan Science Council (IJSC), which has till date organized 19 meetings, supported 250 joint projects, 1600 exchange visits of scientists, 65 joint seminars/workshops and 9 Asian Academic seminars and 10 Raman-Mizushima lectures. In 2006, DST initiated a value-based partnership on the principles of 'reciprocity and co-funding' with the Japan Society for the Promotion of Science (JSPS) and Japan Science and Technology Agency (JST) through MEXT. Since then several Institutional Agreements/ MoUs in the areas of Life Sciences, Material Sciences, High Energy physics, ICT, Biotechnology, Healthcare, Methane Hydrate, Robotics, Alternative Sources of Energy, Earth Sciences, Peaceful uses of Outer Space have been signed between the Science Agencies of both countries. The 20th Meeting of Japan-India Science Council was held on 1 March 2019 in Tokyo which would be last meeting as hereon the joint projects will be decided by JST-DST through a mechanism under the JCM on S&T. Under the Sakura Exchange program in Science as on FY2018 2,207 students/undergraduates/researchers including more than 850 high-school students visited Japan for exposure visit.

Recent initiatives include establishment of three India-Japan Joint Laboratories in the area of Information and Communication Technology (“Internet of Thing, Artificial Intelligence and Big Data Analytics”); Initiation of DST-JSPS Fellowship Programme for the young researchers; Setting up the DBT-AIST Advanced International Laboratory for Advanced Biomedicine (DAILAB) at Tsukuba, Japan and Six SISTERS (Satellite International Institutes for Special Training Education and Research) for drug development and therapeutic diseases in India. The First Meeting of the Japan-India Space Dialogue was held in Delhi on March 8, 2019. This Dialogue was held following the decision at the Japan-India Summit Meeting in October 2018 to launch an annual space dialogue for enhancing bilateral cooperation in outer space.

A cultural agreement was signed between India and Japan on 29 October 1956, which came into effect on 24 May 1957. In 1951, India established a scholarship system for young Japanese scholars to study in India. Prime Minister Rajiv Gandhi attended the April 1988 opening ceremony of the Festival of India. The Vivekananda Cultural Centre was opened in Tokyo in September 2009. The Centre, among other activities, offers classes on Yoga, Tabla, Bharatanatyam, Odissi, Sambalpuri, Bollywood dances, Hindi language, Ayurveda, etc. The ICCR has set up Chairs on India studies at Ryukoku University, Kyoto and in Reitaku University, Chiba. During PM Abe’s visit to India in September 2017, India and Japan signed a MoC for the expansion of Japanese Language Education in India. The MoC, in the 5 years after its signing, aims to double the number of teachers and expand the number of students in Japanese language degree courses in universities and institutions to encourage introduction of Japanese language education in India.

Indian Community

The arrival of Indians in Japan for business and commercial interests began in the 1870s at the two major open ports of Yokohama and Kobe. More Indians entered Japan during World War I when Japanese products were sought to fill gaps in demand that war-torn Europe could not meet. Following the great Kanto Earthquake in 1923, most of the Indians in Yokohama relocated to the Kansai region (Osaka-Kobe) and the city hosted the largest migrant Indian population in Japan. Yokohama authorities offered special incentives to the Indian community after World War II to revive their old base in Kanto. The old Indian community in Japan focused on trading in textiles, commodities and electronics. With close linkages to India as well as connections in Hong Kong and Shanghai, they became major players in trading activities across Asia. A segment of the community is also engaged in gems and jewelry.

In recent years, there has been a change in the composition of the Indian community with the arrival of a large number of professionals, including IT professionals and engineers working for Indian and Japanese firms as well as professionals in management, finance, education, and S&T research. The Nishikasai area in Tokyo is emerging as a “mini-India”. Their growing numbers had prompted the opening of three Indian schools in Tokyo and Yokohama. The community is actively engaged in events organized by the Embassy. The Indian community lives harmoniously with the neighbors and has developed relations with local governments to become valuable members of the Japanese community. Approximately 35,000 Indians live in Japan.

Twinning Program

There are growing links between Indian states and Japanese prefectures. As of now 7 Indian states and 3 sister cities/regions have partnered with Japanese prefectures and cities through MoUs to cooperate under diverse sectors.
